

FX Grant

Case Study

FX Grant is a trading platform that focuses on promoting its services to beginners and professional Forex traders.

Customer: FX Grant

Project: FX Grant ASP.NET and PHP development

Type: Web development

Requirements: Elinext's priority task on this project was to analyze FX Grant platform which includes web application in ASP.NET, an affiliate website in PHP and an application which uses MetaQuotes API for MetaTrader 4. The second step aimed at fixing the main server, a client's cabinet and registration forms. During the final step an Elinext PHP team had to fix the affiliate website.

Challenge: Project challenges included the following:

- The teams worked within a very tight time frame to reduce the platform idle
- Elinext engineers had to investigate and deploy the system without any detailed documentation as only short

description of the platform was provided by the customer

- All the platform components had to work stable and reliable after bug fixing and deployment

Solution: Solution: Elinext responded promptly to the request and organized dedicated teams for all the components of the system. Elinext engineers analyzed and fixed the issues with a minimum idle time.

Results: Elinext PHP and ASP.NET engineers managed to analyze the environment, find the issues, fix the existing bugs of the platform and run all the components within 24 hours. All the bugs and configuration problems were documented in details and explained to the customer. The system were tested and successfully deployed on live servers.
